

U.C. Berkeley Student Values Campus Ministry

Bixler McClure, U.C. Berkeley class of '07, finds more than just a second home in the Cal Wesley Foundation, our campus ministry, which we support through our Annual Conference Apportionments.

“I felt a little out of the loop with my fellow students at a huge university,” says Bixler, who is a United Methodist. “But when I went to the first meeting [of the Wesley Foundation], I felt instantly connected with my fellow students as well as the leaders.”

Henry Kim, Wesley’s campus minister, makes sure students can build relationships through Covenant Discipleship groups, listening to students’ concerns, and meeting together every Tuesday night. Dinner discussions focus on topics the students choose. They do Bible studies, and recently watched films on different world religions.

As a weekly participant, Bixler finds “cool people I can relate with, a deeper understanding of Christianity as well as religion in general, and the act of sharing my faith, experiences, and difficulties with others.”
